

MARCH 2019 THROUGH JUNE 2021

At the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, CHIA began producing monthly enrollment data summaries by key market sectors to provide rapid insight into the pandemic's impact on insurance coverage in the Commonwealth. This publication provides a high-level summary on overall market sector trends and focuses on enrollment in the most recent months of the pandemic: March 2021 to June 2021. For more information on detailed enrollment trends for the most recent two-year period, see CHIA's Enrollment Trends publication through March 2021.

During the pandemic, overall insurance coverage has remained relatively stable, with over 6.5 million Massachusetts residents receiving coverage from private commercial plans, MassHealth, or Medicare (Figure 1).¹ However, coverage trends varied across these insurance categories.

Private commercial insurance plans, which cover approximately 3.9 million Massachusetts residents, declined by 2.9% between March 2020 and June 2021. While the decline was driven by employer sponsored insurance (ESI) plans, which represent over 92% of the market, individual (e.g., non-group) purchasers of insurance also declined over this time period.

In the initial months of the pandemic, employment levels fell dramatically and while ESI coverage also declined, it did not do so at a corresponding rate; this is consistent with the experience of other states across the nation.^{2 3} However, as employment levels began recovering – rapidly over the summer and more slowly through the fall and winter – ESI continued to decline. By June 2021, this decline in ESI coverage had leveled off, though 95,000 fewer (-2.6%) Massachusetts residents received coverage through their employer compared to March 2020 (Figure 2).⁴ National data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicate that both the sizable increase in unemployment and the subsequent ongoing recovery has been concentrated among those whose job losses were temporary.⁵ Nationally, permanent job losses grew more slowly and peaked in late 2020 but have been slowly recovering since December 2020.

Between March 2021 and June 2021, individual purchasers of private insurance increased 0.3%, reversing several months of decline in Fall 2020. This increase was driven primarily by ConnectorCare and subsidized (APTC-only) plans, which represent approximately 68% of individual purchasers and which increased by 3,600 and 11,500, respectively, since March 2021. Enrollment in unsubsidized plans (approximately one-third of individual purchasers) decreased 11.9% from March 2021 to June 2021 as members qualified for new subsidies made available by the American Rescue Plan and were reclassified as subsidized. In April, the Health Connector applied enhanced subsidies to all enrollees and eligible but not enrolled individuals under 400% of the federal poverty level (FPL) per the American Rescue Plan.⁶ In May and June, new subsidies were available to higher income individuals who were previously not eligible and enrollment in subsidized plans increased as existing members were moved automatically and new members enrolled to take advantage of lower premiums.

Between March 2021 and June 2021, the number of individuals with primary MassHealth coverage grew by approximately 24,000, or 1.8%. The Families First Coronavirus Response Act (FFCRA) mandates that Medicaid programs continue coverage for all beneficiaries enrolled on or after March 18, 2020, regardless of changes in beneficiary circumstances or scheduled redetermination assessments.⁷

Medicare enrollment increased 0.4% since March 2021, driven primarily by the growth in Medicare Advantage at 1.2%. During this period, Medicare Fee-for-Service declined slightly, by 0.2%

² A number of factors may explain this apparent disconnect. For one, not everyone that claimed unemployment benefits had insurance coverage through their employer, and among those that did, some were furloughed and may have maintained their coverage. Some had (or were able to shift to) coverage through a family member's plan, while others may have signed up for coverage through COBRA.

- Coverage is defined by unique Massachusetts residents in primary, medical membership within the top 12 commercial payers by enrollment, MassHealth (Medicaid), and Medicare. These counts reflect enrollment for Massachusetts residents and may differ from other sources that report enrollment by Massachusetts contract situs. Membership counts are not exhaustive for Massachusetts; excluded populations may include commercial payers and third party administrators with a small Massachusetts presence, the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP), TRICARE, Veterans Affairs Healthcare, the Indian Health Service, other federal programs, and prisons. This data should not be used to calculate a statewide insurance rate.
- Enrollment counts sourced from the APCD and Supplemental Data reflect the 15th of the month (approximately 87% of total enrollment in primary coverage). Massachusetts Health Connector data reflects the 1st of the month. Medicare FFS data from CMS reflects the number of Medicare beneficiaries enrolled in the reported month.
- Through March 2020, Other Employer Sponsored Plans (Self-Insured) enrollment was sourced from quarterly supplemental data submitted to CHIA, as well as from the APCD for that time period. For self-insured data between April and August 2020, CHIA estimated enrollment for this sector using a combination of supplemental filings voluntarily submitted by some insurers, the APCD, and data collected by the Division of Insurance. CHIA examined the trends observed across these sources, as well as the Large Group (Fully-Insured) subsector, and applied it to the prior period self-insured enrollment figures to arrive at an estimate for each month. Self-insured September 2020 data was sourced from APCD and Supplemental data submitted to CHIA for that month. October 2020 – February 2021 estimates are based on September 2020 figure and other high level trends for this market segment. Self-insured March 2021 data is restated in this publication and is sourced from APCD and Supplemental data submitted to CHIA for that month. April - June 2021 estimates based on March 2021 figure and other high level trends for this market segment. December 2020 APCD data includes some estimates based on the prior month's APCD data submissions due to anomalies.

Notes:

- Coverage is defined by unique Massachusetts residents in primary, medical membership within the top 12 commercial payers by enrollment, MassHealth (Medicaid), and Medicare. These counts reflect enrollment for Massachusetts residents and may differ from other sources that report enrollment by Massachusetts contract situs. Membership counts are not exhaustive for Massachusetts; excluded populations may include commercial payers and third party administrators with a small Massachusetts presence, the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP), TRICARE, Veterans Affairs Healthcare, the Indian Health Service, other federal programs, and prisons. This data should not be used to calculate a statewide insurance rate.
- Enrollment counts sourced from the APCD and Supplemental Data reflect the 15th of the month (approximately 87% of total enrollment in primary coverage). Massachusetts Health Connector data reflects the 1st of the month. Medicare FFS data from CMS reflects the number of Medicare beneficiaries enrolled in the reported month.
- Through March 2020, Other Employer Sponsored Plans (Self-Insured) enrollment was sourced from quarterly supplemental data submitted to CHIA, as well as from the APCD for that time period. For self-insured data between April and August 2020, CHIA estimated enrollment for this sector using a combination of supplemental filings voluntarily submitted by some insurers, the APCD, and data collected by the Division of Insurance. CHIA examined the trends observed across these sources, as well as the Large Group (Fully-Insured) subsector, and applied it to the prior period self-insured enrollment figures to arrive at an estimate for each month. Self-insured September 2020 data was sourced from APCD and Supplemental data submitted to CHIA for that month. October 2020 – February 2021 estimates are based on September 2020 figure and other high level trends for this market segment. Self-insured March 2021 data is restated in this publication and is sourced from APCD and Supplemental data submitted to CHIA for that month. April - June 2021 estimates based on March 2021 figure and other high level trends for this market segment. December 2020 APCD data includes some estimates based on the prior month's APCD data submissions due to anomalies.

Membership counts are not exhaustive for Massachusetts; excluded populations may include commercial payers and third party administrators with a small Massachusetts presence, the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP), TRICARE, Veterans Affairs Healthcare, the Indian Health Service, other federal programs, and prisons. This data should not be used to calculate a statewide insurance rate.
- Enrollment counts sourced from the APCD and Supplemental Data reflect the 15th of the month (approximately 87% of total enrollment in primary coverage). Massachusetts Health Connector data reflects the 1st of the month. Medicare FFS data from CMS reflects the number of Medicare beneficiaries enrolled in the reported month.
- Through March 2020, Other Employer Sponsored Plans (Self-Insured) enrollment was sourced from quarterly supplemental data submitted to CHIA, as well as from the APCD for that time period. For self-insured data between April and August 2020, CHIA estimated enrollment for this sector using a combination of supplemental filings voluntarily submitted by some insurers, the APCD, and data collected by the Division of Insurance. CHIA examined the trends observed across these sources, as well as the Large Group (Fully-Insured) subsector, and applied it to the prior period self-insured enrollment figures to arrive at an estimate for each month. Self-insured September 2020 data was sourced from APCD and Supplemental data submitted to CHIA for that month. October 2020 – February 2021 estimates are based on September 2020 figure and other high level trends for this market segment. Self-insured March 2021 data is restated in this publication and is sourced from APCD and Supplemental data submitted to CHIA for that month. April - June 2021 estimates based on March 2021 figure and other high level trends for this market segment. December 2020 APCD data includes some estimates based on the prior month's APCD data submissions due to anomalies.
