

CHIA Standard Statistics: Percent of Members Whose Care is Covered by Alternative Payment Methods

Time Period/Data Year(s): CY2012-CY2014

Governing Legislation: M.G.L. c. 12C, sections 10 and 16; Regulation 957 CMR 2.00

Description	Alternative Payment Methods (APMs) are non-fee-for-service (FFS) based payments between payers and providers in which some of the financial risk associated with both the occurrence of medical conditions as well as the management of those conditions is shifted from payers to providers to incentivize cost containment and quality care delivery. Types of APMs include global payments, limited budgets, and bundled payments. The primary metric used to measure APM adoption is the proportion of members whose care is paid for under non-FFS based payment methods.
Frequency	Annual- APM data is collected May 15th of each year for the previous calendar year, and APM supplemental data is collected on June 1 st of each year (beginning June 1, 2015) for the previous calendar year, as well as the calendar year that ended 17 months prior.
Statutory Definition	CHIA is required to collect from private and public health care payers “data on changes in type of payment methods implemented by payers and the number of members covered by alternative payment methodologies” and “the average negotiated monthly or yearly budget weighted by member months for each geographic region of the Commonwealth.” M.G.L. c. 12C, section 16 further directs CHIA to collect “the proportion of health care expenditures reimbursed under fee-for-service and alternative payment methodologies.”
Data Submitters	Largest 10 payers in the Massachusetts commercial health insurance market; commercial payers offering Medicare Advantage plans; MassHealth Managed Care Organizations; ConnectorCare (formerly Commonwealth Care) plans; and MassHealth Primary Care Clinician Plan.
Data Included	Three file types: 1) zip code-level 2) managing physician group-level 3) supplemental data 1) For each provider, payers report by insurance category, product type, and payment method: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Member months • Claims payments • Non-claims payments • Health status adjustment (H.S.A.) score • Average monthly budget per member • Payments due to financial and quality performance measures (separate and combined) 2) Payers report member months, H.S.A. scores and total payments data for each zip code by insurance category, product type and payment method. 3) Payers report member months at the plan and provider level by insurance category, product type, payment method, market segment (for commercial populations), risk type, and carved-out benefit type.
Quality Assurance Process	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Data is reviewed for quality by CHIA staff using a standard quality assurance checklist • Each payer’s data analysis is distributed to the payer for verification that results match the payer’s expected results • Data submissions are certified by payer CFO or equivalent

CHIA Standard Statistics: Percent of Members Whose Care is Covered by Alternative Payment Methods

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Data submissions and output are reviewed by CHIA's actuarial consultant • Staff project lead reviews all APM data for quality and accuracy • All publication materials are reviewed by staff analysts, managers, and team director
Reports	Published each September as part of CHIA's Annual Report on the Performance of the Massachusetts Health Care System . Products include: report narrative, databooks, chartbook, and technical appendix.
Data Notes	Provider organizations and members are attributed to payment methods according to payers' contractual agreements with provider organizations. The adoption rate for a given payment method equals the proportion of member months attributed to that method. Payment methods are assigned based on the following mutually exclusive hierarchy: 1) global payments; 2) limited budget; 3) bundled payments; 4) other, non-fee-for-service based; and 5) fee-for-service (e.g., if a contract between a payer and provider involves both a limited budget and some bundled payments, then all associated member months and payments are reported as limited budget).
How to Obtain Data	Current and historical databooks are available on CHIA's website .
Related CHIA Measures	None
Questions?	Questions may be directed to Caitlin Sullivan at caitlin.sullivan2@state.ma.us .